

Call for Speakers

IBPI welcomes proposals from its members and vendor partners from experts in the office equipment industry to present information that will educate and inspire the IBPI membership. The IBPI Board and staff will evaluate all proposals submitted. Presenters should be prepared to present 30-60 minutes of content related to one or more of the education tracks below. While PowerPoints are not required, they are strongly recommended as they help engage attendees in the topic presented.

Education Tracks include: Marketing • Automation • Professional Development
• Sales Training • Business Operations • Information Technology

Please note: these presentations should not emphasize a product or service offered by your business or serve as a "sales pitch." Presentations should be educational in nature. Your business' participation will organically expose your brand to other IBPI members while offering a resource to your industry colleagues.

IBPI 2024 Webinar Series

IBPI offers webinars to provide the membership with education and professional development opportunities relevant to the office equipment industry. If you are interested in providing a valuable resource to your colleagues while elevating your brand to IBPI members, submit a proposal.
